

Hills

Between the English border with Mid Wales and the Welsh coast lie the Cambrian Mountains and the Radnor Hills. These are some of the most beautiful mountain & hill landscapes in the world.

A combination of history, natural topography and 30 years of work have conspired to create the world's most extensive trail riding network. We have 700 miles of described and mapped routes linking together 30 B&B's, Guest Houses and Inns.

It is often possible to ride all day without seeing anyone except your fellow riders, sheep, buzzards, red kites and the occasional herd of wild ponies. A Freerein Riding Holiday will appeal to anyone who wants to get away from it all.

Learn to Ride

---

- › Adult three day course
- › For complete beginners upwards
- › Introduce a friend to life on horseback

Learn while riding out in the hills all day, every day.

Guided Trails

---

- › Two to six day 'real' trail riding holidays with a guide
- › For riders who are happy and confident cantering
- › Join a ride on set dates or hire your own guide

Enjoying a canter on the guided Explorer Trail.

Riders on the Silver John Trail exploring the Radnor Hills on day two.

The remote Pantyllyn lake high above Buiith Wells on the Welsh Prince Trail.

Reaching the end of the Border to Coast Lakelands trail @ Ynyslas Beach

Self Guided Trails

---

- › Two to seven days, start and finish any days & dates
- › For all competent riders
- › Bespoke – you only ride with friends/family you book with

Exploring the Radnor Hills at your own pace on the Radnor Hamlets trail.

Discover remote mountain ponds on the Radnor Forest Trail.

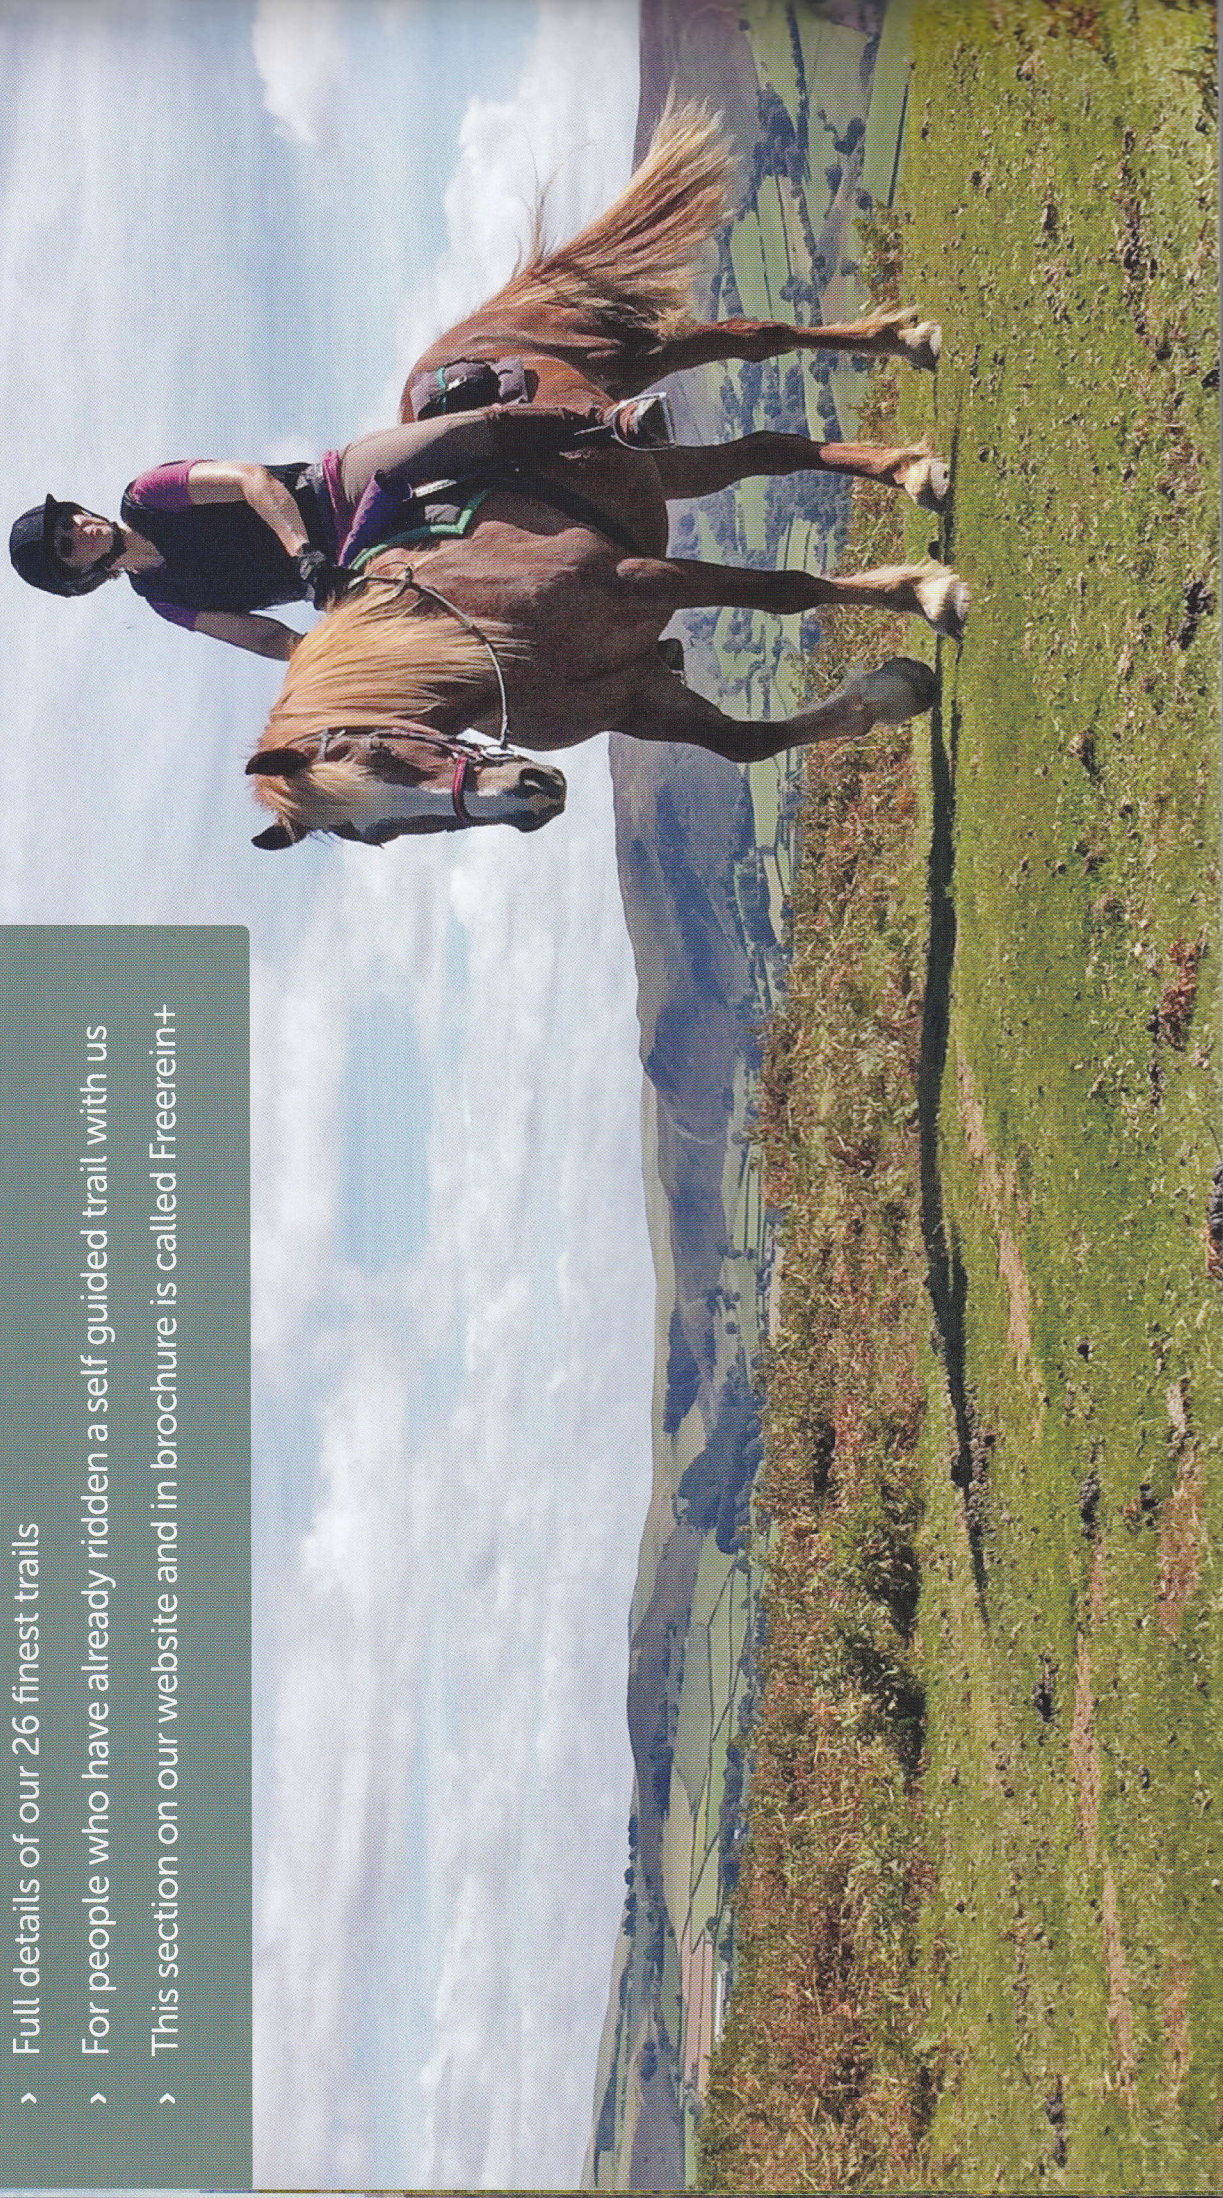

Fantastic views on the Radnor Ronda Trail

Previous Self Guided Customers

---

- › Full details of our 26 finest trails
- › For people who have already ridden a self guided trail with us
- › This section on our website and in brochure is called Freerein+

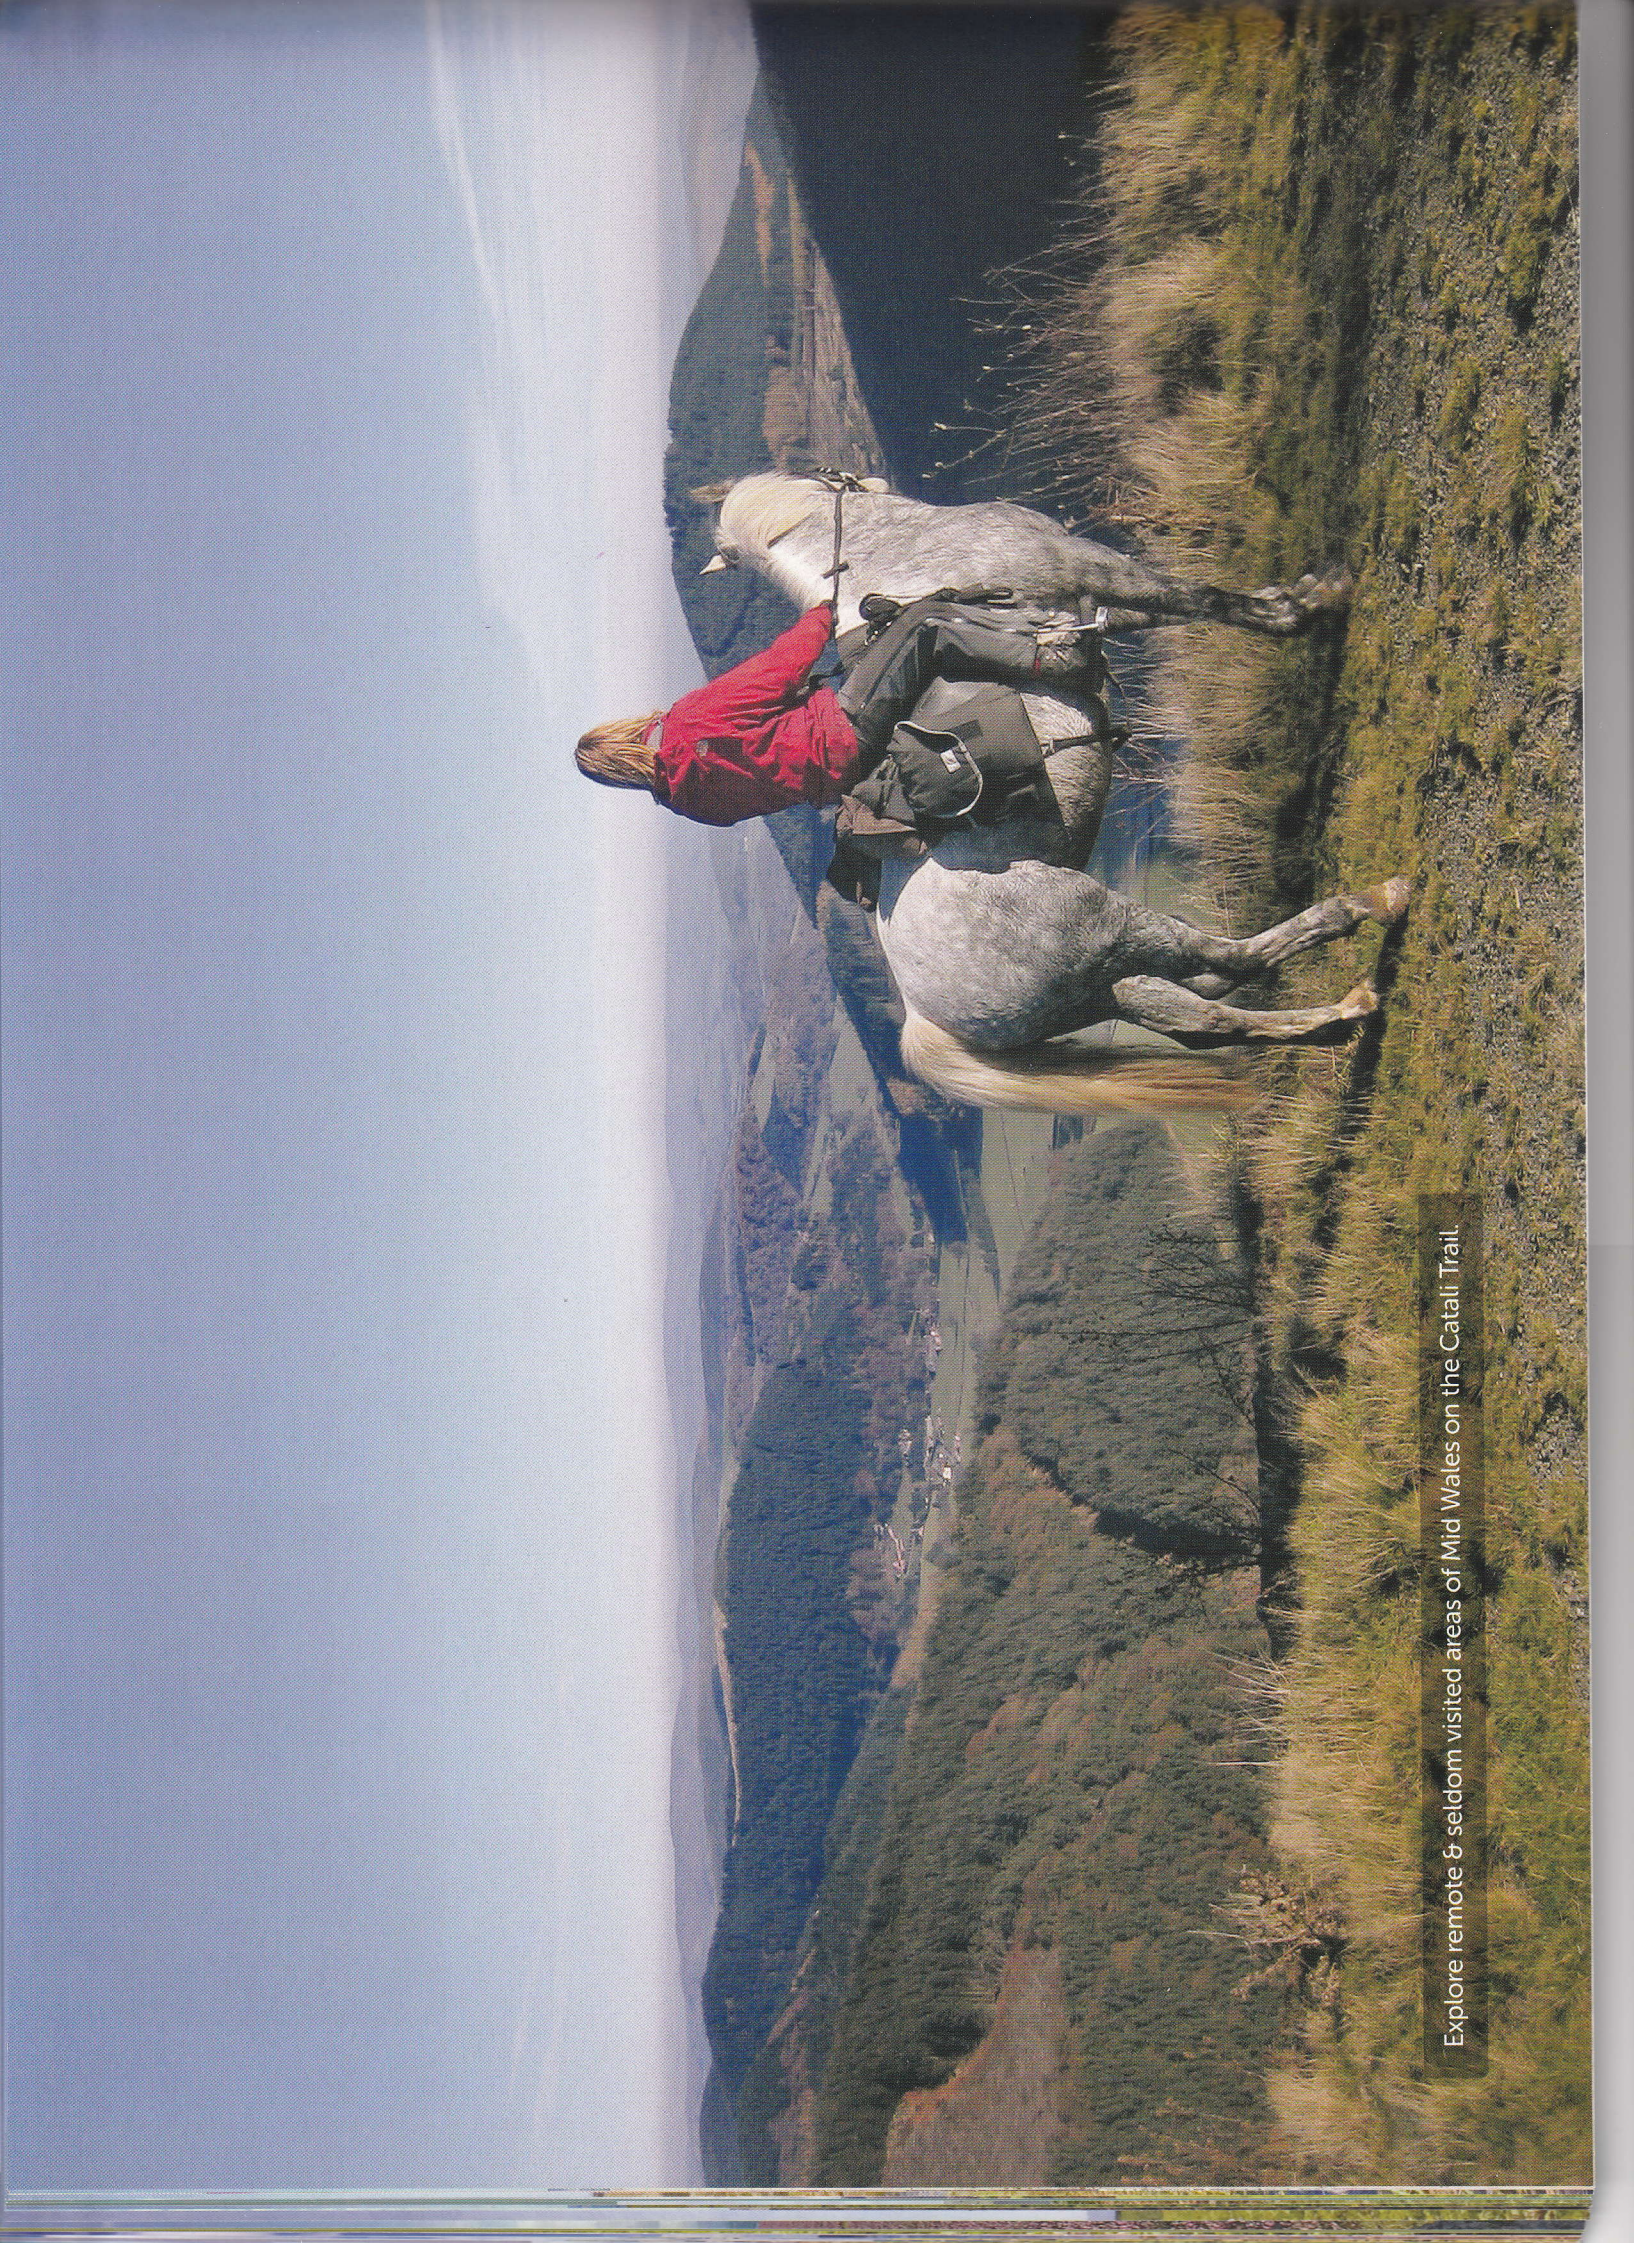

Fantastic routes & accommodation on the Hergest Trail

Pantyllyn Lake high above Builth Wells on day 2 of the Eppynt Explorer Trail.

Explore remote & seldom visited areas of Mid Wales on the Catali Trail.