Representation

6. Statement	I am lodging and objection to this proposal as being detrimental to the intrinsic nature and quality of the landscape on both sides of the border on this major route between England and Wales. Whilst Radnor Forest is not the most spectacular of landscapes in itself (unlike Llandegley Rocks whose character has been harmed by a wind farm that has never been operational) it is the highest land in this part of Powys and has, until now, been part of the wide open vistas of Mid Wales, so valued in these increasingly crowded islands. Whilst admitting to not having examined the proposal in any great detail I have an ongoing acquaintance and love for the area having worked for both Radnor District and Powys County Councils (my final post having been that of Specialist Services Manager). The industrialization should be resisted. I would also suggest that regard be also given to mythology. Radnor Forest (or more properly Fforest Glud) is the home of a particularly fearsome Dragon as witnessed by the ring of churches dedicated to St Michael that surround it. Beware!
